NEWS SUMMARY.

The immense intrenchments around Mobile have been levelled or filled up so as now to leave scarcely a vestige. The people of Frankfort, Ky., were having a glorious time on ice, at last accounts. Skating and a game called "Bandy" were all the go. The railroads in this country employ 200,000 men, and at least 1,000,000 men, women and children, depend for their support upon the railroad interest.

Admiral SERMES has arrived at Alexandria, and Modern Philosophy, in the State Seminary, to which he was recently elected. Three hundred million pounds of tobacco is the estimated crop of tobacco raised in the United States the past year. Ten pounds to every person is a pretty good supply. Returns received at the office of the Secretary of State, of Maine, show that during last year there were 265 bears killed in that State. In Penobocot of Lincoln, 45. The Lynchburg News, of the 3d, says fifteen head of cattle, purchased in Southern Virginia, passed through that city recently, whose aggregate weight was 27,960 pounds, an average of 1864 pounds to the head. The funeral of Gen. Ww. BARESDALE. C. S. A., day from the State House in Jackson, Miss. The ceremonies were very grand and imposing, and the procession almost endless. Foreign newspapers notice the fact that a line of steam curriages for common roads has just been established between Marseilles and Aubagne, a distance of ten miles. Three trains run daily each way, and the cost per passenger for the round trip is only about a quarter of a dollar.

The census of New York city shows a population of hardly three-quarters of a million, and Brooklyn has less than three hundred thousand—the two cities footing up 1,022,764. In New York there are 38,024 more women than men, and in Brooklyn the excess of women is 13,357. It was so cold in Lorisville the other day that an Irish woman, washing at a wash tub, had the garments frozen in her hands, and three lines of "Rory O'More" stretching from her mouth frozen as she sung them. We do not vouch for this, but PRENTICE does. 'I'ne trial of the railroad robbers has been in progress at Franklin, Tennessee, since Tuesday. EVANS and CORNWALL, two of the prisoners, gave evidence for the prosecution and confessed their own guilt. The case for the prosecution was closed yesterday. The Philadelphia North American says the cargo of wheat which lately arrived there from California, was brought all the way by sea from San Francisco, at a less rate per bushel than is charged by railroad from Chicago. No more striking illustration could be given of the great disadvantage of locations far in the interior.

A man who advertised to give the "best of sound, practical advice for fifty cents, that would be applicable at any time, and to all persons and conditions of life," on application of a victim, "per mail," sent the following: "Never give a boy a dime w watch your shadow while you climb a tre: to look into the middle of next week. EDWARD MAGUIRE, a typo, of Saratoga Springs insists that the bones recently found at Cohoes are not those of a mastodon, but of an elephant which was interred in a swamp at Cohoes in November, 1828, and he brings forward in proof an "old and reliable " citizen of Saratoga who traveled with the menagerie to which the elephant belonged.

An atrocious attempt was made a few days since to blow up a brick block at St. Joseph, Mo., by three or four parties, who have not yet been arrested. The proprietors of the block discovered a lighted candle burning in the besement, with a train of cotton leading to a keg of power, and extinguished it in time to prevent the explosion. There were about fifty people in the block.

An Oxford undergraduate came into the Bankraptcy. Court in England, three or four weeks ago. with a trifle less than £3000 debts, and a credit side of about £260. His allowance had been £200 2 year. On that sum he had hired rooms on High street, in addition to his college apartments in Oriel, and had frequented Langham Hotel in London, and the Grande Hotel in Paris.

The death of a very aged member of the British aristocracy is announced. The Dowager Lady VANE, the widow of a man who lived one hundred and six years ago, and who herself was ninetythree, has just died. She was the daughter of Mr. JOHN BOWERBANK, of Johnby, Cumberland, and Was married to Sir FREDERICK FLETCHER VANE seventy years ago. It is from this family that Earl VANE is descended.

The losses by the cattle disease in England are 217.865.000 in gold. Of the animals seized with the disease 210,000 are dead-the Government slaughtered 53,000 to prevent the spread of the plague. To these must be added 100,000 other animals that were prematurely butchered for fear they might be attacked, the meats from which were sold at about half-price in the market.

An Oswego (N. Y.) newspaper says that hog cholera (trichinæ) is raging throughout Illinois and northern Kentucky, and defying all remedies. A western carcass, apparently healthy and unusually fat, was examined a few days since, revealing millions of triching in a mouthful of fat, varying from atoms scarcely perceptible to worms two inches long.

Some of the St. Louis capitalists have a grand project for building five hundred dwellings four miles from the city, embracing a plan for gas and water works, a railroad direct to the location, and other elements of a fall sized city. It is said that the necessary stock has already been subscribed. and it is proposed to secure lessees for houses in advance of the erection. There can be no doubt that the enterprise will be a paying one, and at the same time be a great convenience to reaters.

The Baton Rouge Comet says that among the munificent donations lately received by the Ladies' Benevolent Association of that city, from the ladies of the Southern Fair Association at St. Louis, was a large box crammed full of dry goods. dress goods and ready made dresses of different sizes, all of which have been safely stowed away for careful and judicious distribution among the suff ring poor, as fast as emergencies requiring such distribution are discovered.

Among the other defences of England is a volunteer staff corps, formed of railway officials, which is so thoroughly organized that it undertakes, "in a space of thirty hours, to place in any given spot 150,000 troops, 60,000 horses, and 100 guns," and not only that, but "to collect in twentyfour hours 80,000 'navies' for the construction of fortificati as and field works." The defensive army of England numbers 50,000 regular troops, 120,000 militia, and 150,000 volunteers. The celebrated preacher, PERE HYACINTHE, is at present giving a course of lectures at Notre Dame. in Paris. He is described as a fine-looking man. of about 40 years of age, handsome features, an aquiline nose, somewhat full and sensual lips, and a well-squared chin. He presents an imposing appearance in the pulpit, attired in the costume of his order-a dress of coarse, brown woolen, and lina, and supply the Southern cities and towns. hood and capote of white, naked feet and sandals, a closely-shaven head, with the exception of the short ring of dark hair, which just stops short of the temples. Returns received at the General Land Office show that an aggregate of 22,754 acres of the public land were disposed of during the month of December last at the following local offices: Falls great reduction in price, but to the improveof St. Croix, Wisconsin, 5803 acres; Stevens' Point, Wisconsin, 5920 acres; Winnebago City, Minnesota, 3715 acres; and at Ironton, Missouri, 3715 acres. The greater portion of the land was taken up for actual settlement and cultivation under the Homestead Law. The aggregate cash sales amounted to $3924.

CHARLESTON. THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 17, 1867.

PARDONS.

Much has been said of late about the President's pardoning power, and the Radicals, with characteristic narrow-mindedness, have repealed the Act of Congress which assumed a entered upon the duties of the Professorship of superior meaning to the constitutional powers conferred upon the President. As a matter of curiosity to the Radicals, we publish the subjoined "Act of Pardon and Oblivion," passed by the North Carolina State Legislature in 1783, "for the benefit of such American citizens in that State as had supported the King and Parliament during the war of the Revolution." It will be remembered by the readers of history, that county alone there were 109 killed, and in the town soon after the war the British Government adopted an Act which extended full pardon and amnesty to such British subjects as had aided the Colonies in obtaining their independence. Thus it seems that "the barbarians" of one hundred years ago were superior to the present advanced Puritanical civilization in sympathy who was killed at Gettysburg, took place Thurs- for mankind and their misfortunes. It will be seen from the "Act" we publish that our fathers would not only pardon an offence, called by GEORGE III. treason, but that they were willing that the offence should be buried in "oblivion." They knew, good men they were, and honest and true, that thousands of good citizens conscientiously believed that they owed their first allegiance to their mother country, and they, therefore, had no idea of persecuting them for their honest convictions. The war being over, they believed that such citizens, if taken by the hand, would be as faithful to the new government as they had been to the old. The following is the Aot referred to:

AN ACT OF PARDON AND OBLIVION. WHEREAS, It is the policy of all wise States, on the termination of all civil wars, to grant an Act of parden and oblivion for past offences: And, as divers of the citizens of this State, and other inhabitants thereof, in the course of the late unhabitants happy war, have become liable to great pains and penalties for offences committed against the peace nd government of this State: And the General Assembly, out of our earnest desire to observe the article of peace, and on all occasions disposed to forgive offences rather than punish, where the lorgive onences rather than punish, where the necessity for an exemplary punishment has ceased:
Be it therefore enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authorities of the same that all manner of treasons, misprison of treason, felony or misdemeanor, committed or done since the 4th day of July, 1776, by any person or persons, whatsoever, be pardoned, released, and put in total

We could ask Congress-but what is the use of asking them anything?-to contrast this language and spirit with that evinced by them just now, whose doings are calculated to engender a feeling of hatred that will live long after this generation shall have passed away.

WENDELL PHILLIPS AND THE GREEKS. On Monday, the 7th inst., the Philhellenes ad a grand meeting in Boston, to express heir sympathy with the Candiotes in their resent unequal struggle against the Turks. WENDELL PHILLIPS, it appears, was the Coryphæus of these modern Greeks, and he then and there arose and made a mighty speech, full of criticising this classic oration, and while it fully concurs with the meeting, in an expression of sympathy for the Candiots, it at the same time shows that the new Athenian orator was not very well informed on matters pertaining to either modern or ancient Greece. Mr. P. discovers an analogy in the character and conditions of the people of Greece and New England, upon which the Courrier remarks: If this is said of the ancient Greeks, we do not see how they have merited such degradation; they, who have given to the world so much that is great and beneficial,-who have carried to the pinnacle of perfection all that can elevate the soul or invigorate the intellect, while New England has never produced aught but cant and sewing machines. But if Mr. PHILLIPS had reference to the modern Greeks, we still cannot see any reason for his comparison. True, the proverbial character of the modern Greek for commercial honesty is only so-so; and in this alone can we see any truth in the comparison. But in this, also, great injustice is done to the Greeks; for this odium has been thrown upon them because of the unprincipled conduct of their countryset down in the newspapers of that country at | men in other lands, rather than from any shortcomings of the great mass of the home population. Mr. PHILLIPS endeavored to show that the Greeks and the Yankees resembled each other like two drops of water; whereas it would be difficult to find two natures more different, and who, with a thousand striking contrasts, have but one point of analogy,-and that is, that they are both very sharp at a bar-

The Courrier winds up a long article on the subject by saying, that this whole matter was no business of the Americans; and that Europe must establish a sort of Monroe doctrine of its own to keep the Yankees from intermeddling with its affairs, just as the latter do not permit the Powers of Europe to interfere on

CONGRESSIONAL GAS.

A few days ago we called the attention of our readers to the probabilities of an early great National Whiskey Distillery Consolidation. Now it is our duty to advertise the new gas enterprise, prepared by Congress,-not mere buncomb, this time, but genuine carburated bydrogen. Congress will soon bake all the bread, light the lamps, and wash the dirty linen. We are rapidly drifting into a great communistic despotism. The following, from one of our exchanges, will explain the new

"A great revolution is about to take place in the method of supplying gas in all the ciries in the Union. Under the new plan it is contemplated to manufacture gas on a large scale, with immense works, in the immediate neighborhood of the coal mines, where coal can be purchased for fifty cents per ton, and to convey it through mains to the several cities, where it can be consumed at one-quarter its present cost. The Atlantic cities and interior cities of the Northern States will be supplied from the coal mines of Pennsylvania direct from one company. Another will manufacture at the coal mines of Virginia and North Caro-The West will get their gas from the Missouri mines : and so on throughout the Union. These several projects will be conducted as national affairs, under the authority of Congress. The immense advantages of such a system are at once apparent. They reach not only to the ment in the quality of the gas, and the banish-

cities. Preparations are already in a forward
